

Interdependence in Agriculture

Look closely at the above image and answer the following questions:

1. Name the insect in the picture above?
2. What phylum does this insect belong to?
3. State two characteristics of this phylum.
4. Why is this insect important in agriculture?
5. State two ways modern farming has reduced the numbers of these insects.
6. State two ways that farmers can encourage the numbers of these insects.
7. Name the plant with the pink flower in the picture.
8. What plant family does this plant belong to?
9. State two reasons why this plant family is important in agriculture.
10. What does Interdependence mean? How is interdependence occurring in the picture above?