A House for Hen

The hen is finding the house very noisy with all of the animals around. She would love a quiet space to lay her eggs in peace. She also needs to make sure that she can keep her eggs warm when they hatch, and she prefers dark spaces.

Can you design and make a hen house for her that is warm, dark and quiet?

A stable table

The goat has chewed his way through two of the legs of the old lady's table. She needs a new table where she can sit and enjoy her meals, and do her baking. She would love if the table was more sturdy than the last one, and is wondering what materials might work? Can you design and make a new kitchen table for the little old lady?
